

Catania

Comparte la riqueza de una composición pétrea fragmentada, cercana al lenguaje visual del terrazzo y marcada por numerosas incrustaciones minerales.

En esta interpretación, el acabado pulido transforma la lectura de la materia, intensificando sus matices y aportando una mayor profundidad visual.

La superficie adquiere así una presencia más luminosa y definida, manteniendo intacto el carácter irregular y mineral que da identidad a la piedra.

It shares the richness of a fragmented stone composition, reminiscent of the visual language of terrazzo and marked by numerous mineral inlays.

In this interpretation, the polished finish transforms the way the material is perceived, intensifying its nuances and adding greater visual depth. The surface thus takes on a brighter and more defined appearance, while preserving the irregular, mineral character that gives the stone its identity.
